CONDITIONS OF SALE/PLANS AND WARNING NOTICE

The Ultimate series of amateur-built aircraft have been in existence since the early 1980's. Since that time, builders have completed many aircraft and logged thousands of hours in type. The designs and construction techniques have been proven safe and effective over the years by many builders like yourself. We here at Ultimate Biplane are constantly trying to improve the service to our customers. However there are certain responsibilities that must fall upon the builder. Please read the following conditions very carefully. If you find any of the items unacceptable, you should cease doing business with Ultimate Biplane. Your name and signature at the end of this form constitutes your agreement to accept the Conditions of Sale spelled out below. Thank you for your confidence in Ultimate Biplane and we look forward to serving you in the future.
